Overview

Dr. Arun K Rajan is a highly renowned pulmonologist in Bangalore. He's currently practising as a Senior Registrar - Pulmonology at Manipal Hospital Sarjapur Road, Bangalore. With a strong academic background and three years of specialised clinical training in respiratory medicine, Dr. Arun brings both expertise and empathy to his practice, focusing on the accurate diagnosis and comprehensive management of pulmonary diseases. He completed his MBBS from Government Medical College, Ernakulam, in 2018, followed by a DNB in Respiratory Medicine. During his residency, Dr. Arun gained hands-on experience in managing a wide range of respiratory conditions, including Interstitial Lung Disease (ILD), Asthma, Chronic Obstructive Pulmonary Disease (COPD), Tuberculosis, and sleep-related breathing disorders. He has also been actively involved in critical care medicine, treating patients in intensive care units with advanced respiratory support needs. Dr. Arun has developed proficiency in a variety of diagnostic and therapeutic procedures such as bronchoscopy and endobronchial ultrasound (EBUS), along with expertise in monitoring and adjusting ventilatory support in critically ill patients. His clinical approach is grounded in evidence-based medicine, with a focus on improving patient outcomes through early diagnosis, targeted intervention, and continuity of care. His research interests include pulmonary diagnostics, with a notable comparative study on Impulse Oscillometry (IOS) versus Pulmonary Function Testing (PFT) in obstructive airway diseases. This reflects his ongoing commitment to integrating clinical research into practical care for better respiratory health management. Fluent in English, Hindi, Malayalam, and Telugu, Dr. Arun communicates effectively with patients from diverse backgrounds, ensuring clarity and trust in every consultation. His compassionate approach and strong foundation in pulmonary and critical care medicine make him a valued member of the pulmonology team at Manipal Hospitals.
