Overview

Dr. Neha is a highly experienced and compassionate pediatric specialist with over 15 years of clinical expertise in managing a wide spectrum of childhood health conditions. Recognised for her patient-centred approach, clinical excellence, and dedication to children's well-being, she is widely regarded as a Top Paediatrician in Ghaziabad, trusted by families for providing comprehensive, evidence-based care from infancy through adolescence. Holding an MBBS and MD in Pediatrics, Dr. Neha has developed extensive expertise across multiple subspecialties, including Developmental and Behavioural Paediatrics, Respiratory Emergencies, Pediatric Critical Care, and Neonatology. Her ability to combine advanced medical knowledge with compassionate care enables her to deliver exceptional outcomes for children with both routine and complex healthcare needs. As a Top Paediatrician in Ghaziabad, Dr. Neha has a special interest in developmental and behavioural paediatrics. She works closely with children experiencing developmental delays, learning difficulties, behavioural concerns, speech and communication challenges, and neurodevelopmental disorders. Through early diagnosis, timely intervention, and personalised treatment plans, she helps children achieve their developmental milestones and maximise their potential. Her collaborative approach includes guiding and educating parents, ensuring families play an active role in their child's progress and long-term development. In the field of Neonatology, Dr. Neha provides specialised care for newborns, including premature babies, low birth weight infants, and neonates requiring advanced medical support. Her expertise in newborn care, combined with her empathetic and family-focused approach, helps parents navigate critical stages of their child's early life with confidence and reassurance. Widely recognised as a Top Pediatrician in Ghaziabad, Dr. Neha believes that quality pediatric care extends beyond treatment alone. She prioritises preventive healthcare, growth monitoring, vaccination guidance, nutritional counselling, and parental education to support the overall health and development of every child under her care. Known for her warmth, professionalism, and unwavering dedication to child health, Dr. Neha continues to be a preferred choice for families seeking expert pediatric care. Her combination of clinical expertise, compassionate support, and holistic child-centred care has established her reputation as a Top Pediatrician in Ghaziabad, helping children thrive and families feel supported at every stage of their healthcare journey.
