Overview

Dr. Deep Divanshu Lall is a Consultant in Pain and Palliative Care, and a specialist in Chronic and Cancer Pain for whom compassion and skill go hand in hand. From the outset, his medical career has been driven by devotion and a caring nature, coupled with the ceaseless desire to mitigate suffering and elevate life for his patients. Dr. Lall speaks Hindi and English, and this ability enables him to relate well with his patients and to appreciate the myriad dimensions of suffering pain may entail, including the physical, emotional, and mental. Dr. Lall earned his MBBS, proceeded to obtain an MD in Anaesthesiology, and further honed his skills with a Senior Residency at the Department of Anaesthesiology, Critical Care & Pain Medicine, UCMS & GTB Hospital, New Delhi. He is now armed with advanced skills in critical care, pain medicine, and minimally invasive pain interventions, courtesy of his intensive training. In 2021, he earned the Fellowship of the Indian Academy of Pain Medicine (FIAPM), a distinction offered by the Indian Society for the Study of Pain (ISSP). He is also a life member of the ISSP. He is known for his constructive work as a founding member of the ISSP Gurugram Chapter. Dr. Lall is committed to offering personalized care, focusing on the most effective and least invasive treatments. His expertise includes spine interventions, neuropathic pain management, and advanced minimally invasive procedures that can relieve pain without the need for major surgery. Whether managing cancer pain or chronic conditions, he believes every patient deserves pain relief that restores dignity, function, and hope. Published widely and known for his research contributions, Dr. Lall balances clinical care with academic rigour. His approach is holistic, combining scientific precision with heartfelt compassion. Patients trust him not only for his knowledge but also for his patience, kindness, and unwavering commitment to their well-being.
